FOX RIDGE EQUITY WHY THE ENTRY WINDOW IS OPEN

Six converging forces creating a rare trough-cycle opportunity

SUPPLY CLIFF

01

Peak deliveries (68K units) hit in 2024–25
Projected 2026 completions drop to ~15K
The pipeline has dried up.

Nationally, multifamily starts have fallen 40%+ from peak. The Texas Triangle is seeing the sharpest correction of any major metro cluster in the country.

–78%

Pipeline drop 2024→2026

FOX RIDGE ANGLE:

FoxRidge opportunity: Buy before occupancy tightens

AGENCY DEBT WALL

02

$1.5T in multifamily debt matures 2024–27
Distressed sellers need exits.
FoxRidge targets these off-market deals.

Agency lenders (Fannie/Freddie) are tightening. Floating-rate borrowers face 200–300bps higher debt service. Many are forced sellers — not willing sellers.

$67B

Maturing TX multifamily debt

FOX RIDGE ANGLE:

FoxRidge opportunity: Cash buyers win at distressed pricing

DEMAND ENGINE

03

1,200+ net new residents arrive daily.
Job growth: 3.2% YoY vs. 1.1% national
Household formation accelerating.

Texas added 562,000 net new residents in 2024 alone — more than any other state. The Triangle absorbs 70%+ of that inflow.

562K

Net new TX residents in 2024

FOX RIDGE ANGLE:

FoxRidge opportunity: Demand floor is structural, not cyclical

RENTER LOCK-IN

04

Median home price: $385K in DFW.
30-yr mortgage at 7%+ = $2,800/mo.
Renting is $800–1,200/mo cheaper.

The rent-vs-own gap is the widest in 30 years. Even with rent growth, multifamily remains the affordable choice for 60%+ of Triangle households.

$800+

Monthly savings vs. owning

FOX RIDGE ANGLE:

FoxRidge opportunity: Renting is rational for 60%+ of households

MATURITY WALL

05

2,847 loans totaling $67B mature by 2026
Borrowers face refinancing at 2× original rate
Forced sales create acquisition opportunities

Unlike 2008, this is a liquidity crisis, not a demand crisis. Assets are performing — owners just cannot refinance. FoxRidge steps in with cash.

2,847

Loans maturing by 2026

FOX RIDGE ANGLE:

FoxRidge opportunity: Off-market deals at 15–25% below replacement cost

RATE ENVIRONMENT

06

Fed pivot expected H2 2025–2026.
Cap rate expansion already priced in.
Buying at peak cap rates = built-in upside

CME FedWatch shows 2–3 cuts priced in for 2025–26. Each 25bps cut adds ~3–5% to multifamily valuations at current cap rates.

2–3

Fed cuts priced in 2025–26

FOX RIDGE ANGLE:

FoxRidge opportunity: Buy at peak cap rates, exit at compressed rates

HOW OVERBUILDING BECOMES OPPORTUNITY

The supply cliff is already happening — and demand hasn't slowed

METRO	2024 DELIVERIES	2026 PROJECTED	CHANGE	VACANCY	RENT GROWTH
Dallas–FW	24,200	5,800	–76%	6.8%	+3.2%
Houston	22,100	4,200	–81%	7.1%	+2.8%

THE WINDOW:

2026–2027 represents the lowest new supply in 6 years — while 1,200 people move to Texas every single day. Occupancy will tighten. Rents will rise. Buyers who enter now capture the full recovery.

Historical precedent: After the 2010 supply trough, Triangle rents grew 18% in 24 months.

FOX RIDGE EQUITY WHAT COULD GO WRONG — AND HOW WE MITIGATE IT

Every risk has a FoxRidge answer

HIGH EXTENDED RATE ENVIRONMENT

RISK: Fed keeps rates elevated through 2027, compressing exit multiples.

FOX RIDGE RESPONSE:

Conservative underwriting assumes 6.2–6.5% exit cap rates. Stress-tested at 7%+. Preferred return structure protects LP capital first.

6.5%

Entry cap rate

7.0%+

HIGH DEMAND SOFTENING

RISK: Recession or job losses reduce renter demand in Texas metros.

FOX RIDGE RESPONSE:

Texas has no state income tax, diversified economy, and military/healthcare anchors. Historical occupancy floor: 91% even in 2009.

MED ADDITIONAL SUPPLY SURPRISE

RISK: Developers restart pipelines faster than expected, delaying rent recovery.

FOX RIDGE RESPONSE:

Construction financing remains constrained. 24-month lead time means 2026–27 supply is already determined. We track 100% of permitted projects.

MED EXECUTION RISK

RISK: Value-add renovation takes longer or costs more than projected.

FOX RIDGE RESPONSE:

FoxRidge has completed 7,000+ units of renovation. Fixed-price contracts, in-house PM, and 15% contingency reserves on every deal.

LOW REGULATORY CHANGES

RISK: Texas implements rent control or changes landlord-tenant laws.

FOX RIDGE RESPONSE:

Texas is constitutionally prohibited from rent control. Landlord-friendly courts. No meaningful regulatory risk horizon.

UNDERWRITING PHILOSOPHY:

We underwrite to survive, not to win. Every deal must pencil at 7% cap rates, 90% occupancy, and 0% rent growth. Upside is a bonus. Capital preservation is the mandate.
